

Project Trainee/Internship

Earn While You Learn | CompuBrain Engineers | Working Off Campus |
Off Campus Jobs | Career in a KPO

We are looking for students pursuing their graduation or post graduation to fill Project Trainee/Internship positions in our organization. The Project Trainees/Interns are trained about the concept development of the website design, business development and processes carrying out the business and strategies related to those businesses. While working with us the trainees would get exposure to every industry be it banking, real estate, manufacturing, hospitality, pharmaceutical, food industry, etc.

During the Initial Learning Program, we will introduce you to business paradigms and evolving technologies, while simultaneously offering practical training and mentoring by highly-skilled technology and business professionals. Upon successful completion of the Initial Learning Program, you will be placed internally to begin your internship projects. While on these assignments, you will also undergo additional intensive learning, development, and training throughout the duration of the project.

CompuBrain™'s main goal in training these Project Trainee/Interns is to extract the best talent pool available and in return guide them to build a successful career in the best possible way. To grab this stupendous opportunity fill in the details below and get ready to be a part of your dream company.
