We used to wonder few years ago if only we could invent some way to use electronic devices without wires and roam around doing our work while travelling or having a sip of coffee. Well there we go we have wireless system which almost lets us do all the work which a wired system can do.

From wireless phones and laptops to wireless internet connectivity through WiFi hotspots at designated places and technology like Wi-Max; that provides wireless transmission of data using a variety of transmission modes, from point-to-multipoint links to portable and fully mobile internet access, all have made our lives simpler and more mobile yet highly efficient.

We @ CompuBrainTM would like to address any queries that you may have regarding any wireless equipments that you may have or you wish to purchase.
